

Key messages for staff – COVID-19:

Situation: Level 4, nation-wide lock down. Aquaculture classed as essential service

- Your wellbeing is our number 1 priority during this time, and we will be doing everything in our power to protect you and your families from COVID-19.
- We would never knowingly put you or any of our people at risk
- We have implemented a raft of operational changes to ensure we comply with all COVID-19 requirements
- The government has classed aquaculture as an essential service that needs to continue throughout the COVID-19 crisis, in order to look after our animals and supply Kiwis with fresh, safe, nutritious seafood.
- It is a privilege to be able to continue to work, while others in the community are not as fortunate.
- Be proud that you are helping provide New Zealand with an essential service during a tough time.
 - You are helping:
 - Maintain the welfare of our stock
 - Protect the future of our industry
 - Helping supply Kiwi families with natural, fresh, healthy food at a time of great stress.
- We can't do it without you
- Please comply with hygiene and personal protocols. Do not come to work if you are sick or have any COVID-19 symptoms.
- Staff in essential industries who choose not to work, will not be eligible for the government's support packages.
